PAYP Key Workers

Rob Gibson

Dawn Badley

PAYP Key Workers Role - pre activity

- Marketing / PR
- Networking / Building Relationships
- Joint Identification and assessment
- Meeting Young People
- Referrals
- Work With Parents/ Carers / Professionals
- Call Young People To Confirm Attendance

PAYP Key Workers Role – during activity

- Attend Activity And Explain PAYP
- Support Young People & Providers
- Obtain Feedback on Young People
- Obtain Feedback from Young People
- Identify NEET and Other Risk Groups

PAYP Key Worker Role – post activity

- Feedback
- Support

Case Study

- Met with young person who has SEN.
- Young person was withdrawn. Had no friends
- Referred to PAYP sports activity.
- Met young person at project on a number of occasions.
- Young person made new friends would like to take part in future PAYP activities.
- Feedback from the provider says the young person had improved his social skills and confidence.

Case Study

- Client A has special educational needs, challenging behaviour, attends CAMHS and is at risk of offending behaviour & being excluded from school.
- Client expressed an interest in arts and crafts.
- Referral to PAYP Art Project.
- Received excellent feedback from provider about client.
- Client returned to school and is more settled, improved behaviour and more confident.

Case Study

- I met this client at the YOT with his Social worker and dad.
- He is currently on a one year referral order since October 2007 for various driving offences.
- He was sent to Bangladesh for 6 months and on his return to Britain lost his place in school.
- Subsequently been getting into trouble.
- At first he was reluctant to sign up for PAYP, however through my encouragement and motivational techniques he decided to sign up for a music activity.

- On the first day of the project I got a call from the clients dad saying that the client had told him the activity had finished early (this was untrue).
- After speaking with client who told me that he did not want to go I managed to convince him of the benefits and agreed to visit him on the project the following day.
- During our one to one he informed me that he was happy that he attended as he had learnt new things and made new friends.
- Since completing the PAYP activity the client has since returned to mainstream school and both he and his dad have expressed an interest in more PAYP activities.

Client Feedback

- 'Made loads of new friends and really enjoyed the activity'.
- 'I want to do PAYP next half term and bring my friends with me'.
- 'I learnt lot's of new things like how to help someone if they are choking'.
- 'I was glad to get a Customer Service accreditation that I can put on my C.V'

PAYP Feedback

"I believe it is vital that PAYP Key workers are involved in the successful running of my PAYP programme and others. Otherwise it probably would have been difficult to reach my targeted audience and organise such a system to get young people to attend the courses at Ensign Youth Club.

Organising school visits, engaging with teachers and young people, organising transport, home pick ups and drop offs, organising teaching assistants, arranging deaf interpreters, constant parental liaison, before, during and after the activity are all organised by PAYP PA's and it would not have been possible on my side.

I would like to thank them personally and will always support them as I think that the PAYP delivery system has been greatly improved over the years through committed members of the PAYP team to see successful projects running and the referral system greatly improved".

Ensign Youth Club

PAYP Feedback

"Just to let you know how fantastic and supportive they have been towards our Bodyworks programme. PAYP Key worker's have gone out of their way to support us and get the young people on board and to attend our programme, more so than in any other borough we have worked in.

They not only puts 200% into getting young people signed up and turning up but they also check in every day to support young people in keeping them on the programme, and visits us on several occasions to attend and support the young people during the running of the clinic.

PAYP Key workers have gone above and beyond on every occasion we have worked with them"……..

The Wellbeing Team