

Promoting a Healthy & Safe Games

London Health Conference 2010

Hilary Ross 2012 Programme Director NHS London

Overview

Bid commitments and IOC requirements

Public health impacts and opportunities

- Health promotion & prevention
- Emergency preparedness
- Leveraging the Games for health improvement

NHS preparations at London and local level

Bid commitments and IOC requirements

24 hour ambulance cover

Designated hospitals

Free healthcare for Olympic Family

NHS volunteers

Public Health

Well tested emergency response capability

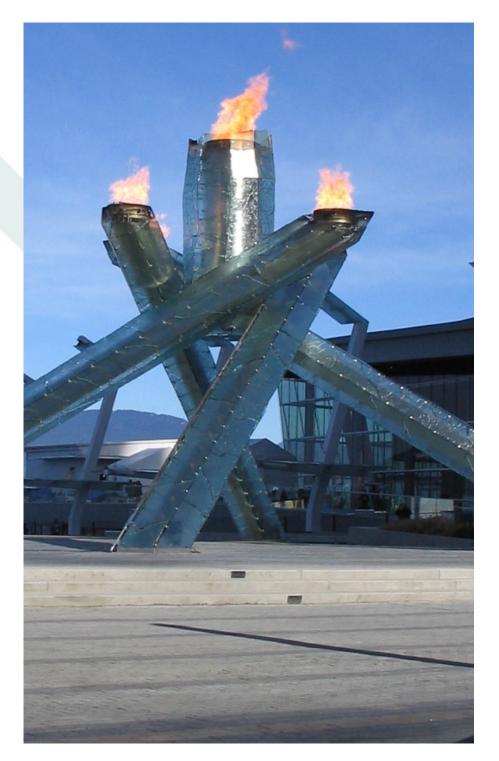

No detriment to local population

Health Legacy

Sports and exercise medicine

The challenges to public health from an Olympic / Paralympic Games

Increased prevalence of illness and injury

Vancouver community service impact

Visits to Whistler Health Care Centre were below

historical levels during the Games

Vancouver hospital attendances

Increased attendance at local hospitals for substance misuse

Cultural events and live sites

Corporate sponsorship

Increased threat level and other pressures on NHS resilience

Actions for the NHS and partners

Mitigation through health promotion and prevention

Volunteer training

Good quality facilities in venues and availability of drinking water

First aid provision

Responsible sponsorship & management of alcohol

Sexual health promotion

Ramping up food inspections

Increasing preparedness in response to Home Office planning assumptions

Heatwave

Mass Casualties

Release of Chemical, Biological, Radioactive, Nuclear (CBRN) and Hazardous Materials

Industrial action

Disruption to water/ power/ telecoms

Increased surveillance & reporting of infectious diseases

Leveraging the Games to support health improvement goals

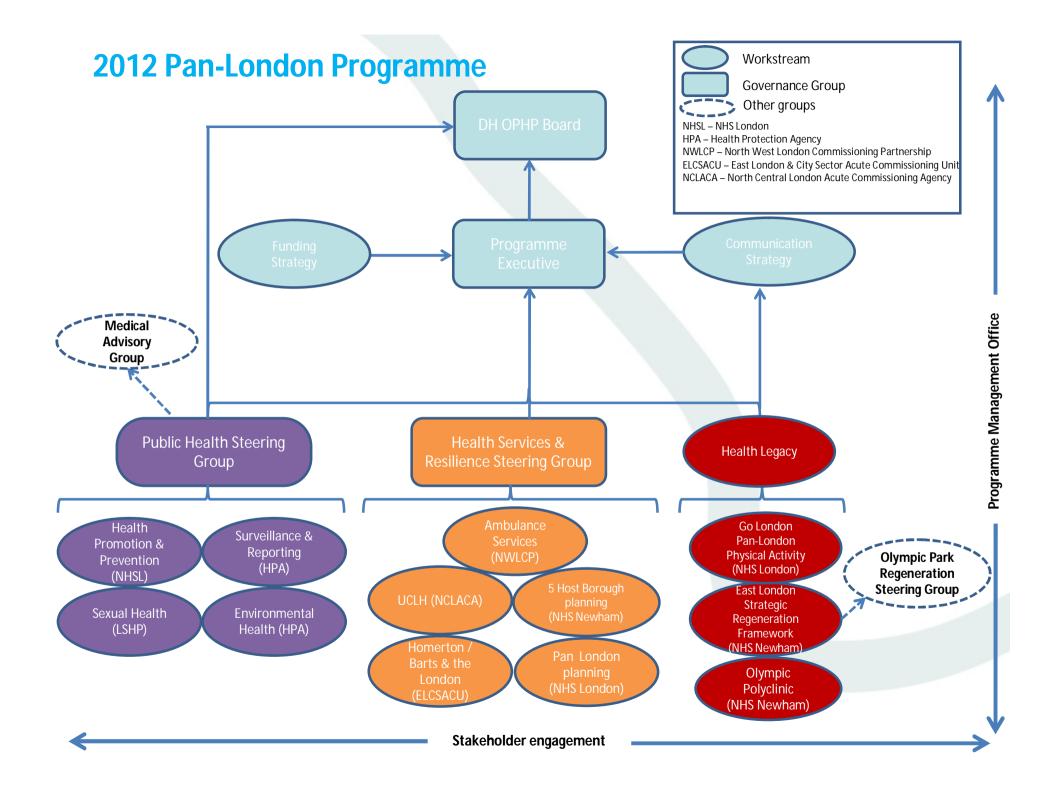

Go London! - Go 10,000 challenge for NHS staff in 2011

Healthy eating

Tobacco

Sexual health

What NHS organisations need to do locally on public health

Support their 2012 lead

Engage with local partners

Consider the challenges for the Games peri as well as the opportunities for legacy

Provide assurance!

hilary.ross@london.nhs.uk